SATURDAY APRIL 10.

The Irish have a red letter day in parliament. Gladstone seems to be the Moses for that people.

Mary Anderson is an artist for revenue, but without the word only. She has accumulated a fortune of half a million and has it well invested.

If Lamar keeps on making Sparks fly, there won't be anything left of the land commissioner before the year is out. Lamar is now doing some good work.

The silver bills now before congress can take their baits and leave. It proposes to stick to 24,000,000 standard silver dollars a year, whether the people want them or not.

Even the United States senate can do a very small thing, as will be seen by the vote on Logan's bill to increase the army. One hardly knows at which branch of congress to look for the most stupidity—the senate or the house.

One thing is just certain, the people should elect a large majority of the present congress to stay at home next time.—Madison Democrat.

That is what the people propose to do next fall. And in doing this the house will more than likely become republican. At least the signs of the time point in that direction.

The Macon (Georgia) Telegraph, democratic, asks this question: "Won't all of us be dead before the democratic party gets into office?" Very likely. But this is only one of hundred complaints made by the democratic press. The fruit of the democratic victory in 1884 hasn't got as pleasant taste to the democratic mouth as was supposed it would have. The "organized appetite" wants everything.

Madness ran riot at East St. Louis on Friday, and bloodshed, death and fire were the results. The frenzy of the mob was so great that the committee men of the Knights of Labor could not control them. The infuriated mob set fire to several cars, and the police fired into the ranks of the mob and killed four men and one woman. The scene was remarkable, and the fiendish passions of the angry mob was largely provoked by men who did not belong to the Knights. Governor Oglesby will send troops to East St. Louis to prevent the distruction of property.

The report comes from Auburn, Maine, that a firm of shoe manufacturers of that city have submitted to their 750 employes a plan by which the net profits of the business shall be divided among the workmen. The men are first to receive as high wages as are paid by competing firms, and afterwards are to share in the net profits in proportion to the labor contributed by each. This plan is not new. It has been tried in England and in this country and proved exceedingly profitable to the employes.

The New York Sun advises President Cleveland to get a team of trotters and drive fifteen miles a day. It would be cheaper to buy a hammer and drive fifteen nails a day, and on behalf of Jeffersonian simplicity, we offer the amendment.—Washington Critic.

It seems that Mr. Cleveland is doing a good deal of driving this year. He appears to have driven a good many democratic newspapers, democratic congressmen and democratic place-hunters from his confidence. But the more driving of this kind he does the better for Mr. Cleveland and the country.

Mr. Cleveland has shown considerable respect for Frederick Douglass, as he invited both him and his wife to attend the official receptions given to the diplomatic corps, to the army and navy, and to congress. For the first two no invitations were sent out from the White House to congressmen, who were invited by a sort of general notice in the daily press. But written invitations were sent to Douglass which were worded "and the ladies of your family." When the third reception was given and cards were sent to senators and representatives, Douglass was again invited and the ladies of his family again included. The invitation in each instance was from the president and written by his private secretary.

The State Journal of Friday, contains this item: Yesterday, Messrs. Young & Pollett, of Oconomowoc, were found guilty of keeping a pharmacy, having no registered pharmacist in charge and were fined $50 and costs, amounting in all to $69.35. The trial occurred at Waukesha The case is the fifth tried in the state since our excellent pharmaceutical went into effect. Four cases were decided in favor of the state and one is still pending. The state board of pharmacy is carefully looking after all who are trying to evade the law. There is no law on our statutes that should be more rigidly enforced than this; the good of the public demands that only competent persons shall mix and dispense drugs in each community.

The killing of song birds so as to use their wings and tips for personal adornment, is attracting widespread attention. Movements are on foot in New York and Philadelphia looking to the organization of societies for the protection of American birds. The only hope of reform in this matter is induce women to refuse to wear the slaughtered birds and the slaughter will cease. The birds will not be killed if there is no demand for them and the wearers of birds can put an effectual stop to the demand by making some other kind of trimming fashionable. But there is little prospect that this can be done. There seems to be an over-ruling power in fashion, and so long as there are song birds to slaughter so long will there be a demand for them. Women are among the first to inaugurate reforms, but it is doubtful if they can unite on the general proposition to abandon the use of birds for millinery purposes.

General Master Workman Powderly, in his address to the organization of which he is chief, says:

I must have the assistance of the order or my most earnest efforts will fail Will I have it? If so, strikes must be avoided; boycotts must be avoided. Those who boast must be checked by their assemblies. No move must be made until the court of last resort has been appealed to. Threats of violence must not be made. Politicians must be hushed up or driven out. Obedience to the laws of Knighthood must have preference over those of any other order.

If the Knights of Labor want to overthrow Jay Gould, just let them follow after such leadership as that. By so doing they will gain public confidence and win universal sympathy. Gould and his abitrary power are not impregnable against such a line of action as that marked out by Mr. Powderly. Laboring men who have law on their side and justice and honor in their methods, can soon bring proud Gould to bay.

When Edward Atkinson, the Boston free-trader, goes out into the country to lecture for the purpose of proving that a laboring man can live on $172 a year, he wears a pepper-and-salt suit of clothes, that cost $8. When he is at home he wears broadcloth that costs $80 a suit. A free-trade theorist and a free-trader in his way of life, it be can afford to live at his ease, are two entirely different individuals.—Chicago Journal.

Yes, and Mr. Atkinson has said himself that it costs him $20,000 a year to live. If he is a sincere free-trader and is in dead earnest in cheap living, why doesn't he adopt this system of diet which he says is good enough for a working man, or any business. But Mr. Atkinson is one of these free-traders who believe that American wage earners are living too well. He well knows that free-trade would reduce the homes of tens of thousands of workingmen, and that is why he is lecturing, for pay, of course, to prove that laboringmen eat too much good food. Oh! humbug, thy name is Edward Atkinson.

A LIBEL AGAINST MASSACHUSETTS.

A few days ago the Evening News, published at Salt Lake City, a paper which has a large circulation in Utah made an attack on Joseph Cook for denouncing polygamy in one of his Monday lectures delivered recently. Mr. Cook did nothing more than to endorse the the official conduct of Governor Murray in vigorously and courageously enforcing the provisions of the Edmunds law. To this the Evening News takes exceptions, and in making a bold defense of not only Mormonism, but polgamy, publishes this libel:

Under the present laws of Massachusetts, a girl may consent to her own ruin at the age of ten years! If she is ten years old she has reached the age of consent, and may freely dispose of her person, except by way of marriage. A child of ten years may be seduced by a brute of any age, and if it can be established that she consented, he is free from any legal penalty. But the law forbids the issuance of a license to marry, to any girl under the age of eighteen years without the consent in writing, of the parent or guardian, and justices or ministers who marry minors without such license or certificate, render themselves liable to a fine. Thus marriage is checked and crime encouraged.

In such a condition of the law, what wonder there is such a terrible condition of Massachusetts society. A young girl may consent to prostitute her body, but not to give herself in marriage. A lecherous man may take advantage of trusting youth and yielding affection, and destroy virtue with impunity; but he must not marry the victim of his wiles if she has not reached the age of eighteen years. There may be nothing wrong in the marriage restriction, but who can find words to express the infamy of the provision concerning "the age of consent" to ruin, corruption and disgrace?

A paper which has the boldness to make such a statement as the foregoing, naturally does not lack the audacity to commend polygamy. But it shows how utterly lost to all sense of honor a Mormon can become when he undertakes to defend his so-called religion, and how far he will get from the truth in comparing the morality of Utah with that of Massachusetts.

But let us see if a girl in Massachusetts can dispose of her virtue at will, and laugh at the moral sense of the community and mock at criminal law. In the statutes of that state, under the title of "Offences against chastity, morality and decency," is the following section: "If any man shall commit fornication with any unmarried female, each of them shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail." This has been in the statute books for more than fifty years, and is very much the same as the law in this state. The moral atmosphere of Utah can not be purified by such a wretched attempt as this to compare its virtue with that of Massachusetts or any other state. If women bring forth paupers, and the children are "bred to vice while the mothers run riot to ruin and to hell," it is Utah, and not in Massachusetts. It was not a growing sentiment in the Bay State which induced several thousands of women a few years ago to to petition the legislature to abolish the legal restrictions that prevent a man from marrying and living with more than one wife, on the alleged ground that the surplus women of that state saw no opportunity for honorable motherhood unless this was done, but was the work of Mormon missionaries, who went among the lower class of factory girls and among houses of prostitution in the large cities and appealed for signatures to the petition.

Young women are as well protected in Massachusetts as in any state in the Union, and there is less crime there in proportion to population, and more public decency, than in the territory which makes slaves of women and institutes plural marriages for the purpose of gratifying the lusts of the flesh.

THE EXPECTED HAPPENS.

HUMAN LIFE SACRIFICED AT EAST ST. LOUIS, AT LAST.

DEPUTY SHERIFFS LOSE THEIR HEADS AND OPEN FIRE ON A CROWD.

Deadly Effect of the Volley—One of the Victims a Woman and the Others Mostly Non-Strikers.

A Wild Mob Thirsts for the Blood of the Shooters and Beats One of Them to Death—Successful Efforts of Leading Knights to Secure Order—Story of the Deputies—Troops Ordered to the Scene—Seven Incendiary Fires Burning.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ills., April 10.—A reign of terror and bloodshed has been inaugurated here, and although serious results were not unlooked for, few were prepared for the sudden and terrible manner in which it came. For several days past the demonstrations that were made on the part of the strikers and the fact that the freight-houses and yards of the railroad companies were being filled with hired deputy sheriffs, convinced the more cool-headed that nothing short of a miracle would prevent a bloody riot. The hired deputies were stationed in every railway yard, and wherever there were entrances barricades were thrown up, behind which the deputies were posted, the purpose being to keep the strikers entirely out of the yards, and no one was permitted inside unless he had a pass. Sheriff Ropriequat had sent home his posse of 200 men and if they had been here they were not properly armed for the emergency. Mayor Joyce called on the sheriff in the morning with a view of prevailing on him to summon enough men to watch every street in the city, and especially the streets on the island, so that teamsters who desired to go to work might be able to do so without being interfered with. The sheriff did not take kindly to the scheme. He said he was tired of the whole business and did not intend to do any more than he was doing at present.

BEGINNING OF THE TROUBLE.

About 2:15 o'clock a crowd consisting of from 100 to 150 men, mostly strikers, were gathered at the east end of the bridge, near the Louisville & Nashville railroad track. They were watching the operations of a Louisville & Nashville switch engine, and as it passed and repassed them, jeered the engineer and crew that was attending to the switching opprobious epithets were also applied, but were not noticed by the switching crew. This continued for some time, the strikers seeming to become more and more excited. Watching this scene were five deputy sheriffs, two of whom were armed with Winchester rifles, and three with heavy navy revolvers. They were standing on the Louisville & Nashville trestle, about twenty feet from Cahokia bridge. They nervously watched the action of the crowd and finally rushed forward. They were joined by about ten other deputies and losing entire control over themselves,

FIRED PROMISCUOUSLY RIGHT AND LEFT.

The crowd broke and ran in all directions, uttering maledictions as they retreated, and the piercing cry of a woman was heard above the din. Notwithstanding that the strikers were in full retreat, the deputies pursued them in the direction of the bridge, shooting while in progress. At least 150 to 200 shots were fired. Two men fell in their tracks on the bridge, while one man was seen to topple over into Cahokia creek.

A CRY OF HORROR

arose from the witnesses of this outrage, and every one in the vicinity hastened to put a brick wall between themselves and the leaden messengers of death.

But this was not enough. The outpouring of blood that had brought sorrow and misery into half a dozen homes was not yet completed. After the brief but bloody struggle on the narrow trestle bridge over the Cahokia, the deputy sheriffs, apparently terrified at the deadly havoc they had committed, turned westward and retreated precipitately toward the bridge. They had almost reached the East End bridge house when they were overtaken by Mayor Joyce, Officer Doud and T. A. Canty. Mayor Joyce at once ordered the men to return to the Louisville & Nashville yards. "It's no use in us going," said one of the deputies,

"WE'LL BE LYNCHED ALIVE."

"There is no danger of that," Joyce answered. "I want you men to return, and I promise you adequate protection."

The deputies still refused, and finally the mayor said that he would be compelled to arrest the leaders of the deputies in view of what had occurred. After a short scuffle two of the deputies were arrested and the mayor and officers started off with them.

WANTON MURDER AGAIN.

They had gone less than a hundred yards when the deputies, as if by a blind impulse, and with no apparent cause, except in the hope of killing the mayor and the officer, began firing. There were several people on the bridge coming up at the time. They were not strikers, but pedestrians crossing over. There was but a single volley, but when the smoke cleared away a man lay stretched apparently lifeless on the walk. In an incredibly short space of time a crowd gathered, the prostrate man was carried to the bridge house, when he was found to be not dead, but dying. A bullet had gone through his abdomen, and while he breathed life fled rapidly away. He was unable to speak, but he was recognized as C. E. Thompson, of 4021 California avenue, St. Louis. The deputies, hanging together for protection, retreated across the bridge toward St. Louis.

DASTARDLY AND UNPROVOKED.

The different eye witnesses of the tragedy all agree that the attack on the strikers was most dastardly and entirely unprovoked. They all assert that is the natural consequence of putting Winchesters in the hands of inexperienced men who have never before smelt powder, and who would be frightened at their shadow. As is usual in similar cases the innocent suffered most. There was one striker among the wounded. The lady who was shot was Mrs. Joseph Pfeiffer. She was hit in the back and can not live. The two men who fell on the bridge were taken to Fisher's drug store, but they were beyond medical skill.

THE KILLED AND WOUNDED.

The corrected list of casualties resulting from the troubles is as follows:

Killed—Patrick Driscoll, laborer; Oscar Washington, painter; John Blanner, laborer; all living in East St. Louis, and none of them strikers; C. E. Thompson, of 4021 California avenue, St. Louis, not a striker; Mrs. John Pfeiffer, living in East St. Louis; an unknown man, who fell into Cahokia creek from the bridge; total, six.

Wounded—J. A. Chesbey, a deputy sheriff; Maj. Rychman, a deputy sheriff; Gussie Kleinhein, a little girl, aged 7; a boy named Murry. All of the wounded will recover.

The Mob Goes to Work.

A HUNT FOR DEPUTIES.

Some of the deputies who failed to make connection with the frightened crowd who rushed pell-mell over the bridge, took refuge, chased by the crowd, in the freight warehouse and offices of the Louisville & Nashville road and barred all the doors. The warehouse was surrounded by an immense crowd who soon commenced yelling and urged those in front to attack the stronghold and drive the deputies out. Men went among the crowd urging others to procure arms and shoot all the deputies they could find. Some of the deputies, watching their opportunity, slipped out and worked their way among the freight cars unobserved. They left their guns behind them in the freight house, and a Louisville & Nashville freight car backed down alongside the platform and took away the others to a place of safety. Two were sighted by the strikers who had procured arms, and were chased under the bridge. One of them was caught in front of Toney's house on the levee, and was

BEATEN TO DEATH BY THE MOB.

Another was reported to have been shot as he was escaping under the approach to the bridge. The other deputies escaped unharmed.

As soon as it was learned that the deputies were escaping from the freight house, men, insane with anger and excitement, burst in the doors and searched the house thoroughly. They secured some Winchester rifles, and, with others who had shot-guns and revolvers, searched the freight cars and the yards of the Louisville & Nashville carefully for stray deputies. It was a regular rabbit hunt, and it would have been instant death to any deputy found by the gang.

THE EVER READY LEADER TO ANARCHY.

About half an hour after the fight on Broadway an excited, angry mob gathered in the square between the city hall and the police station. A man named Dwyer, who formerly ran a variety dive, and at present follows no other occupation for a livelihood, was the center of a wild crowd, who loudly cheered every incendiary statement that he uttered. He urged the men to "hang and kill," and was in the midst of an appeal to the mob to follow him to the Ohio & Mississippi depot to "hunt for deputy sheriffs," when John W. Hayes, the one-armed member of the general executive committee, Knights of Labor; Martin O'Neill, and Knight of Labor Brown arrived upon the scene.

Mr. Brown mounted the stairs leading to the police station and yelled at the mob for attention, but the infuriated men answered him with: "Hang the curs," "kill them," and other remarks of the same character. Brown began an impassioned appeal for quiet, law and order, and by the sheer force of his terrible earnestness, rivited the attention of the crowd for a few minutes at a time, when they would break away from the spell of his eloquence and take up their revolutionary yells.

A KNIGHT'S APPEAL FOR ORDER.

He said: "Men and brothers, for God's sake keep quiet; I implore you in the name of humanity, in the name of the great order of the Knights of Labor, in the name of every law, both of the order and your country, restrain yourselves and do no violence. Remember that you are our sworn brothers. Do not forget that you are Knights, and that you are pledged to obey the laws of the order, and the commands of your committeemen."

At this point the gambler, Dwyer, broke in: "Yes, why don't you talk for Jay Gould and be done with it? They shot our men down in cold blood and you ask us to be quiet. I say hang them, hang them." The crowd took up the words and repeated them, ringing the changes on, "burn, kill, and shoot." Brown pointed his finger at Dwyer and said:

"Are you a Knight of Labor?"

"No," answered Dwyer, "but I am with them in everything, you can bet."

"I know that you were not a Knight," said Brown. "I know that no Knight would talk as you do." He then continued his appeal to the mob, and fairly quivered with earnestness and excitement as he to obey the laws. During this time Committeeman Hayes was excitedly pacing up and down, and almost crying. He made a short speech of the same tenor as Brown's, and was followed by Martin O'Neill. Casper Hoop was meantime busy among the crowd arguing directly with them for peace and order, and he was joined by Brown, O'Neill, Hayes, Bailey and others, and gradually the excitement subsided and the mob dispersed, though in a mood that did not promise much of peace if anything happened to raise it again.

Now the Horse Is Gone

THE STABLE DOOR WILL BE LATCHED VERY SECURELY.

At 11 o'clock Friday morning Sheriff Ropriequet sent a dispatch to the governor stating that the mob divided his posse, and it was impossible for him to enforce the laws. He therefore intended to send his posse to their homes. He called upon the governor for militia sufficient to protect property and enforce the law.

During the shooting Sheriff Ropriequet sent the following dispatch:

"R. J. OGLESBY: SPRINGFIELD, ILL: Mob concentrating with rifles and guns to storm the Louisville & Nashville freight house One man killed on bridge; danger imminent. ROPRIEQUET."

To this the governor replied:

"Your telegram received 2 p. m. I have given orders for a militia force to report at once under command of a colonel, who will be on the grounds to take charge of said force. Several companies, possibly eight or more, will go. You will have a reliable force upon which to depend. I will instruct the colonel to report to you and I must exact of each of you the greatest care, the greatest earnestness and discipline in your councils, and co-operation with the officers in command thereof. If Gen. Vance can leave here on the 4 o'clock p. m. train will send him down. Please keep this dispatch for the present to yourself. Will communicate with you more fully in writing. Keep me advised of important events until the arrival of military forces.

R. J. OGLESBY."

THE STORY THE DEPUTIES TELL.

Rifle Practice Returned for Stone-Throwing—Charge Against Mayor Joyce.

St. Louis, April 10.—A. G. Hewlett, special officer of the Louisville & Nashville road, was in charge of the party who did the shooting. He was seen in the "hold-over" at the Four Courts police station. He said that the trouble commenced just before dinner, when two of the deputies were struck with stones. He talked with the crowd and told them to disperse, which some of them did; others, he said, cursed and hooted him. A couple of hours later he was called to the Louisville & Nashville yard, where a crowd was preventing a train from going out. He says after they got the train out he arrested a man for threatening language, and ordered the crowd to disperse. Stones were thrown, and he and several other men were struck, and then the firing commenced. "I think we fired first," said Hewlett. "I think all of our shots took effect. The man who threw the first rock was shot down."

"Then they cried 'kill the cowboy'" meaning me," interrupted Deputy Sheriff Kessler, "and as I saw a fellow drawing a revolver, I shot him."

"After the shooting," continued Hewlett, "we made for the bridge, not from fear, but because we did not want to kill any more people. We were stopped on the bridge by Mayor Joyce, who was quite drunk, and he wanted us to go back with him. This we refused to do because he could not give us protection. He attempted to take us, and gave his revolver to a fellow who opened fire on us. The man fired several shots at us, and some our party fired back."

"How many of you fired in the first shooting?"

"All of us," was the reply, and all of the nine men in the party added that they had all fired. No one knew who fired the first shot.

THE TORCH IN PLAY.

Seven Different Fires Started and the Authorities Unable to Stop Them.

CHICAGO, April 10.—The following dispatch has been received here:

ST. LOUIS, April 10.—2:30 a. m.—The shooting yesterday afternoon acted on the strikers and the general mob in East St. Louis like a torch applied to powder, and all efforts to control them were useless. At a late hour to-night the work of setting fire to railroad property was commenced. Some freight in the Vandalia yard was first set on fire, and while the crowd were attracted there by the bright blaze the torch was applied in the Louisville & Nashville yard. To that point the crowd rushed, but soon a bright blaze shot up in the Cairo Short Line. At this juncture the fire department of East St. Lous, being unable to handle so many fires Adjt. Gen. Vance telegraphed Maj. Francis, of this city, for aid, guaranteeing the firemen full protection. Three or four engines were sent over, but before they reached their destination fire had broken out at two other points in the Short Line yards, and also in the Indianapolis & St. Louis yards. The trestle over the Cahokia creek on which the people were standing when the attack was made Friday was also set on fire.

The hose of the fire department was cut by the mob, and all efforts to control the fires were useless. Up to this hour (2:30 a. m.) seven different fires have been started, and numerous freight-cars and other railroad property burned. The authorities seem to be utterly paralyzed and powerless to check the work of the incendiaries. The fires are still burning.

THE TROOPS ORDERED OUT.

Eight Companies Get Marching Orders, and Five Held in Reserve.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., April 10.—When Governor Oglesby received the telegram from Sheriff Ropriquet stating that he had given up trying to keep order, he selected the following companies to start immediately to East St. Louis: Companies C of Springfield and H of Decatur, of the Fifth regiment, and of the Eighth companies D of Champaign, F of Greenville, H of Paris, I of Vandalia, K of Nashville, and L of Sparta. The companies held in readiness to move as a reserved force are A of the 8th, at Arcola, E of Petersburg, G of Virden, I of Jacksonville, and B of Taylorville, of the 5th. In the absence of Col. Barkley, of the 5th regiment, Col. R. M. Smith, of the 8th, will have charge of the department of the 5th. The Gatling gun will be worked by a detail from battery A, of Danville, in charge of Lieut. T. C. Kimber, of this city, who was with the gun during the troubles at Lamont. Brig. Gen. Reece with Col. Mills will assume charge of the entire force and direct the operations. Camp equipage and 12,000 rounds of ammunition have been forwarded to the front, and another store is ready to be shipped in case it should be required.

A Small Force of Military

ST. LOUIS, April 10.—The militia that have arrived are camped near the east end of the bridge, and seem to be as yet unable to distribute themselves so as to guard the property. This fact probably arises from their small number, only about seventy-five men being upon the ground as yet.

Buckwheat Flour
Graham Flour,
Rye Flour
Corn Meal, Bolted and Granulated.
Corn, Oats,

Linseed Meal.

Of the Best Quality.

We desire to build up a home trade in

Buckwheat Flour,

And we guarantee that all Buckwheat Flour sold from these mills shall be made from Pure Buckwheat, and shall contain no other ingredient.

Our Graham Flour

is made from thoroughly cleaned, Choice, White Winter Wheat. Graham Flour takes its name from Sylvester Graham, the author of a noted treatise on "Bread and Bread Making." It is conceded that bread made from unbolted or Graham Flour, is more healthful and nutritious than fine, white bolted flour, for the reason that it contains more of the gluten, from which the flesh, bone, brain and tissue of the body is built up and sustained.

The whitest and most beautiful bread found upon the tables of the critical American, contains less of the elements of than the dark colored rye bread in Germany, or the heavy loaves found in the knapsacks of the Russian soldier. Graham bread made from good, clean wheat is very excellent and healthful food. We propose to make and sell this kind of flour.

Corn Meal.

as a staple article of diet in the Eastern and Southern States, and should be more generally used here. Is there a Yankee o the face of the earth, who has wandered so far from the hills of New England, that he has forgotten the baked pork and beans, the rye and the Indian meal bread, or the baked Indian pudding with which his heart and stomach were gladdened during the days of his boyhood. Hoe cake, Johnny cake, mush and milk, corn meal gems, and Indian meal puddings, with pork and bacon, were main articles of diet for the sturdy men and women who subdued and built up the older States of the Union. We offer to the trade, and families, both the bolted and granulated Corn Meal.

Especial attention is called to our

Minnesota Linseed Meal

It is excellent for dairy stock, and horses when fed with other grain.

ORDERS FOR GOODS may be left at the store of E. Hall, Norcross Block, or at the mill. All grists ground on the same day as received, as desired.

CHAMBERLAIN OBJECTS.

WHAT HE HAS TO SAY OF GLADSTONE'S SCHEME.

Giving Away Cabinet Secrets in Parliament—A Brush with the Premier—Excavated by Healy—Burlington's Criticism—Morley Talks Right Out for Home Rule.

LONDON, April 10.—The house of commons was crowded Friday evening in every part, the attraction being the expected speech of Mr. Chamberlain against Gladstone's Irish measure. Mr. Chamberlain said he told Mr. Gladstone when he went into the cabinet that he was opposed to a land purchase scheme. He was therefore astonished when, on March 13, Mr. Gladstone laid before himself and his colleagues a land purchase bill involving an outlay of £150,000,000.

Here Mr. Gladstone interrupted Mr. Chamberlain and said—I object to this. The gentleman has not received permission of her majesty's government to state its measures in parliament.

Mr. Chamberlain replied that he made the statement only for the purpose of explanation, and protested against restrictions being placed upon the measure of his explanation. An angry discussion followed for some minutes between Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Chamberlain after which the latter proceeded with his speech. The objections, Mr. Chamberlain said, which he had stated to Mr. Gladstone previous to entering the cabinet had not since been removed and several of them he would now make known.

He objected to the scheme principally because the Irish members were by its terms excluded from the Westminster parliament; because the scheme removed the exercise of the right of the imperial government to impose taxation; because it surrendered the right of the government to appoint judges and magistrates, and particularly because of the supreme authority suggested for Ireland in matters not specially excluded from the power of its parliament.

Mr. Chamberlain then spoke of the effect which the success of the scheme must have upon the tax payers of Great Britain. He regarded the land measure as one laying on British tax payers an overwhelming liability, attended with excessive risk. Viewed in any light it still retained the appearance of a bribe to the land owners to soften or remove their hostility to home rule. Referring to the financial element of the scheme Mr. Chamberlain said that the English tax payers would object to shouldering any additional burden for the purpose of meeting Irish deficiencies, and the Irish tax payers would be called upon to pay new taxes whenever deficiencies in the budget occurred. Failing to obtain the sum needed in this way the government would be obliged to repudiate its obligations. Rather than support this measure with all its future complications, Mr. Chamberlain would vote for separation pure and simple.

Coercion was not, however, his alternative. Coercion had failed, and it would fail again. He proposed to deprive the landlords of the power of forcing evictions for six months, meanwhile guaranteeing them their rents, the land being the security. During this period a peace commission composed of members of all of the portions and sections in parliament could conduct a searching inquiry into the land question. This he thought necessary as a preliminary step, and he believed that the information gathered by the commission would be invaluable to the solution to the land problem. As for home rule, Mr. Chamberlain said that he did not look for it in the direction indicated by the government, but rather in the direction of a federation under which Ireland would remain an integral portion of the empire and imperial unity be maintained.

Mr. Healey replied to Mr. Chamberlain, and delivered probably the most effective speech of the day. His denunciation of Mr. Chamberlain's course from his entrance into Mr. Gladstone's cabinet until his resignation, was an example of political vituperation such as has not been heard in the house of commons for many years.

Marquis of Hartington said he could not support Gladstone's measure. He objected that this legislation had not been referred to the country. If it had been known that such a measure would be presented the chances were that a Conservative majority would have been returned.

Mr. John Morley, chief secretary for Ireland, supported the bill in a long speech. If the house of commons, he said, held the people of Ireland in such low estimation as to think they would sympathize with burglars and conspirators let its members not talk about free institutions. Let them show the courage of their opinions and say boldly what they think, that Irishmen are unfit for self-government, and that Ireland was not in a state to maintain free and representative institutions. As for himself he would rather legislate for Ireland upon the line of strong repression than to proceed under the policy by which Ireland has been governed for the last fifty years.

PROMINENT IRISH-AMERICANS.

Egan and Sullivan Feel Happy Over the Matter.

OMAHA, April 10.—Patrick Egan, the president of the Irish National league was seen Friday. "What do I think of this bill?" said he. "I think it will be a grand, good thing for Ireland if it is passed with certain modifications."

"What are those modifications?"

"Well, for instance, I am inclined to think, with Parnell, that the subsidy of £5,000,000 which the Irish government, according to the bill, has to pay into the royal treasury is rather heavy. It seems to me, too, that the veto power as outlined by Gladstone is a little too strong. There are certain other modifications which, if made, I think would better the bill."

"Do you believe that it will meet with the approbation of the Irish Nationalists in America?"

"I certainly do. Of course, there are some who would never be satisfied with anything, and they will probably continue to kick. But the rank and file of the Irish sympathizers of this country will agree that Gladstone's measure is a just one."

CHICAGO, April 10.—Nearly all Irishmen and Irish-Americans appear to have nothing but praise for Mr. Gladstone just now, and, although they are seeking after greater concessions than are now promised, they are happy to see so much in view.

Mr. Alexander Sullivan, ex-president of the Irish National League of America, gave a reporter his opinion of the measures proposed by Mr. Gladstone in the following language:

Mr. Gladstone's home-rule bill and his speech explaining and defending it constitute as complete a vindication of the position taken by the Irish as it would be possible for them to wish. He acknowledges the potency and therefore justifies the resort to obstruction.

To Spur a Jaded Appetite

Is one thing, to invigorate and regulate the digestive organs is another. And yet mere appetizers are constantly mistaken for and are even termed tonics. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is on a far higher plane in the category of medical preparations, than the so called tonics which imparts a relish for the food. These have their use, and are estimable, provided they be pure. But the scope of the remedial operation of the bitters is far wider. It reforms entirely an enfeebled condition of the stomach, and purifies its juices if vitiated, as well as promotes their secretion in healthful abundance. The stomach having, in conjunction with the liver and bowels, been regulated, and their natural tone restored through its agency, appetite returns, as a matter of course. Fever and ague, poverty of the blood, and consequent debility, rheumatic ailments, and a tendency to kidney and bladder troubles, are also remedied by it.

Old and reliable Medicines are the best to depend upon. Acker's Blood Elixir has been prescribed for years for all impurities of the Blood. In every form of Scrofulous, Syphilitic or Mercurial diseases, it is invaluable. For Rheumatism, has no equal. Prentice & Evenson, druggists, O. P. O.

The best on earth can be truly said of Griggs' Glycerine salve, which is a sure safe and speedy cure for cuts, bruises, scalds, burns, wounds and all other sores Will positively cure piles, tetter, and all skin eruptions. Getting Down to Proper Weight.

College students enter into their athletic contests with an enthusiasm that is refreshing, and "Featherweight," tells an interesting story about the preparation of the technology students. At their games the juniors won the tug-of-war, and thereby hangs a tale. When the four men who were to represent the class of '87 began to pull together it was found that they were weighed twenty-four pounds over the limit—960 pounds. This, too, was when they were all supposed to be in the pink of condition; but they must take off those twenty-four pounds of extra weight, and every expedient known by the athlete to reduce weight was resorted to. In fact, they went through a course of training that would put to the blush a prize-fighter preparing for a battle in the ring. Finally on the night before the eventful day, they were again weighed, and, to their consternation, they were still too heavy by one and a half pounds. They were not going to give it up then, so they decided to refrain from any more food until they had been accepted by the officials on the following day.

The time for the official weighing found each one fearfully hungry, but when they stepped on the scales and found that they weighed but 959 75-100 pounds and were eligible to pull, they thought no more of eating, but went to work on the cloaks just a quarter of a pound under weight. When they had won their first heat they suddenly disappeared, but showed up in time for the last pull. The "sophs" were to be their opponents, and they demanded that the juniors be weighed over again, but the referee said no. The eighty-seven men had been weighed and accepted once, and as they had pulled one heat they were eligible to pull again. Now, the juniors had precisely this view of the matter, and as they were decidedly hungry after winning once, they slipped out and broke their fasting. The sophomores discovered the clever trick of their elders, but the only satisfaction they could get out of it was that perhaps they could be as smart another year.—Boston Globe.

A Compassion for Spinsterhood.

A decision just promulgated by the supreme court of Germany evidences a compassion for spinsterhood which will doubtless be warmly appreciated in the circles chiefly concerned. It is decided that "if a bride has falsified her baptismal certificate with the simple intention of deceiving the bridegroom on his requiring it for the banns, as to her age, in order to insure marriage or happier matrimonial intercourse, she shall not be punished as for falsifying deeds, but only for breach of the law concerning falsification for the purpose of advancement."

Causes an Intolerable Itching.

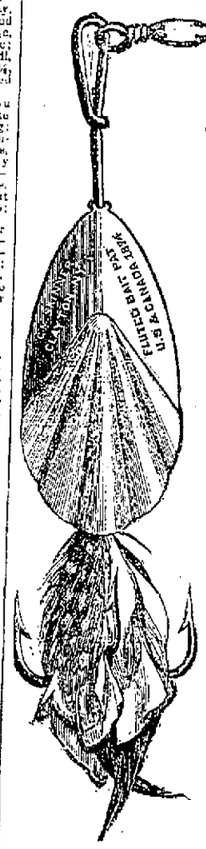

Some of the best corn lands in Indiana are the bottoms of ponds which have been drained, but in certain of these the working of the soil on warm days causes an intolerable itching, followed by burning pain in the skin for some days. The cause of this is found to be the minute spicules of sponges which once grew in the pond and remain in enormous abundance in the dust.—Chicago Herald.

Happiness and a Good Moral.

I begin to think now, since I have written several novels, that they should all have a good ending. There is enough sorrow and distress in the real world, with all pertaining to it in fiction. Yes, hereafter I have fully resolved that whatever vicissitudes and trials I carry my characters through in the course of a story, in the end I shall bring happiness and a good moral.—George W. Cable.

CATARRH

ELY'S CREAM BALM.

I have used two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm and consider myself cured. I suffered 20 years from catarrh and catharral headache and this is the first remedy that afforded lasting relief.—D. T. Higginson, 145 Lake street, Chicago.

For cold in the head Ely's Cream Balm works like magic. I used me of catarrh and restored the sense of smell.—E. H. Sherwood banker, Elizabeth, N. J.

For 15 years I was annoyed with catarrh, sometimes very severe pain in my head, discharges ran to my throat and unpleasant breath. My sense of smell was much impaired. I have overcome these troubles with Cream Balm.—J. Lee. St. Denis Hotel, Broadway, N. Y.

I was cured before the second bottle of Ely's Cream Balm was exhausted. I was troubled with chronic catarrh, gathering in head difficulty in breathing and discharges from my ears.—C. J. Corbin, 973 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

A God send is Ely's Cream Balm. I had catarrh for three years. My nose would bleed and I thought the cores would never heal. Cream Balm has healed me.—Mrs. M. A Jackson, Portsmouth, N. H.

It is wonderful how quick Ely's Balm benefited and cured me. I suffered from acute inflammation in my nose and head. For a week at a time I could not breathe. I was troubled with Catarrh.—Jesse Judson, Hartford, Connecticut.

A particle of the Balm is applied into each nostril. It is quickly absorbed and allays inflammation. Causes no pain—is agreeable to use—convenient and cleanly.

Sold by every druggist or sent by mail on receipt of price.

Jewetts' Water Filters

Are the only perfect filters in the market proved by a test of many years. They have been improved for the last 25 years, so that they have now reached perfection. It is conceded by scientists and physicians that one of the chief causes of what is termed malaria, arises from impurities of drinking water. Out of forty-six wells in Brooklyn recently examined by a sanitary committee, only eight were found uncontaminated with sewerage or animal matter. We expend from $50 up for protection from lightning, for insurance, etc., while the danger from lightning is not one thousandth part of that from our well and cistern water. The investment of $5.00 more in a Jewett Filter will prove the best investment as a protection from disease, and also give us the purest of water. 100 families in Janesville are now using them. WHEN DOES OLD AGE BEGIN?

When does old age begin? At forty-five, it is said, the amount of combustion which keeps the furnace of the human body in blast commences to decrease and diminishes until three-score years and ten, more or less, when the fires are drawn and the flickering flame dies out. That is the physiological way of looking at it. But some men are old before they are out of their teens, while others apparently never grow old, though they live to be centenarians. The poet's way of looking at it is the best:

"Call him not old whose visionary brain
Holds o'er the past its undivided reign.
For him in vain the envious seasons roll
Who bears eternal summer in his soul."

This at least seems to be the way in which David Littell, of Sumner, Ia., looks at life, for though now in his eightieth year he has taken a new lease on life and is apparently determined to hold on to it. Athlophoros did it for him and he acknowledges his debt to it in terms of enthusiasm. Mr. Littell tells his own story:

"I was past seventy-seven and had been afflicted with rheumatism three years and eight months. I had lost one-third of my weight and could not walk, but shuffled along with crutches. Sleep had deserted me, my nerves were all shattered, and there was no strength in my hands, wrists, knees or feet. I could not sit down or get up out of a chair without help, and oh! such pain, worse at night than in the day. There was neither sleep nor rest, and the outlook was painful in the extreme.

"But thanks be to God and Brother Inskip for sending me a paper containing a notice of the cures made by Athlophoros and thanks be to you for sending me a bottle. It appears to me the hand of God is in it all the way, and if you did not hear me shout why then I did not shout loud enough, that is all. The medicine arrived one Saturday night after I had gone to bed. In the morning my son prepared me a dose of two teaspoonfuls in milk. I took it and felt it at once all over. After that I took but one teaspoonful at a time until I had finished the bottle. How did it act? Why, like a charm. On Monday morning I rose, dressed, and walked out into the kitchen without crutches or cane and wished them all a happy New Year.

"My pain is all gone and I rest well. My son, seeing such a great change in me, wrote for ten bottles in order, as he says, to make a permanent cure of it. It is all more like a dream than reality. I have written to four of my friends who are afflicted with rheumatism about the great medicine and I shall write to others, and in this way try to pay the debt of gratitude.

"Some fourteen months ago," says A. Hayward, of Burlington, Ia., "I was attacked with inflammatory rheumatism. I tried a dozen different kinds of medicine said to cure rheumatism, but to no purpose. Finally, I procured a bottle of Athlophoros. After using the bottle it did me so much good that I bought another, but did not have to use more than a third of the second bottle before I was entirely cured. From that time up to the present I have never had anything like rheumatic pains, and I thank Athlophoros for the cure."

Thomas McCue, Bush's block, Dubuque, Ia., whose wife was cured by Athlophoros of a terrible case of rheumatism, declares it was "truly a miracle in my wife's case."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

A Little Sufferer

Cleansed, Purified and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me great pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by your Cuticura Remedies. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the Cuticura Remedies, using the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the Cuticura Resolvent, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the Cuticura Remedies and see the child now, consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them. MRS. E. S. DRIGGS,

May 9, 1885. 612 E. Clay St, Bloomington, Ill

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, who, being with him every day, became accustomed to the disease. MAGGIE HOPPING.

Catharral Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing, to feel that the system does not through its veins and arteries suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never failing.

Sanford's Radical Cure consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and one Improved Inhaler, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

VISITING THE MOQUIS.

A CALL FROM STRANGERS WHICH THEY DID NOT AT ALL RELISH.

Pueblo Indians Resenting the Presence of Whites—Col. Stevenson and His Wife Return from Arizona with Curios and a Readable Story of Adventure.

Col. James Stevenson, of the bureau of ethnology, has returned to Washington after a sojourn of about six months among the Indians of Arizona, bringing a car-load of rare and valuable curios, illustrative of the social habits, worship, and industries of various tribes, of which little is known. He was accompanied in his travels by Mrs. Stevenson, and the pair had an adventure among the Pueblo Indians quite unusual in its character. Having explored some newly discovered cave villages in the vicinity of Flagstaff, A. T., they gathered a small party, struck across the desert to the northeast for the Moqui towns, several days' journey distant. They arrived safely, and encamped at the foot of a high mesa, at the top of which stand Oreibe, the largest, westernmost, and least known of all the "Pueblo" towns. Its population is about 800 souls, and the village is a compact mass of rubble structures, standing one upon another, like a pile of empty boxes and with as little regard to any plan of architecture. The people, like all village Indians, are comparatively harmless, but, unlike the majority, have a strong aversion to contact with the whites.

Some of the leading men of the town came down to the camp, and, after considerable palaver, gave consent that their village might be visited, but stipulated that no effort should be made to convert the people to Christianity. The next day Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson, accompanied by their four friendly Moquis from other villages and as many Navajoes, rode to the top of the mesa, dismounted, walked into the village plaza, and thence climbed a ladder to the top of the cacique's, or high priest's, house.

THRONGS OF EXCITED BARBARIANS.

When the presence of the strangers became known there were signs of excitement throughout the village. The neighboring housetops and the plaza were thronged by excited barbarians, who chattered in loud voices and made threatening gestures. One burly savage upon a roof just above the cacique's dangled a lariat suggestively noosed at the end, and loudly demanded that the whites be taken to the estufa, or underground chapel of the village, and there summarily dealt with. One or two demonstrative individuals volunteered to be the first to apply the knife. The friendly Moquis stood their ground only a few minutes and then disappeared, but the Navajoes, who are made of firmer material, remained.

Col. Stevenson says that while the situation was highly interesting it was probably less alarming than it would have been to people unacquainted with the natural timidity of the Pueblos. Mrs. Stevenson, who has sojourned with her husband among many wild tribes and knows the Indian character well, created an opportune diversion by shaking her fist in the face of a hunch-backed savage, whose vindictive eloquence seemed to exert a most mischievous influence over his fellows, addressing to him at the same time several brief but vigorous remarks in English and Spanish which he was, of course, quite unable to understand. Before the man had recovered his self-possession the strangers had backed down the ladder and then slowly made their way, with the whole howling pack, men and women, children and dogs, at their heels, to their ponies, mounted and rode down to camp. They found the cook, who was the only other white person in the party, considerably alarmed. He said the camp was surrounded soon after their departure by many friendly Indians, but when the Moqui deserters reached them and told the story of the proceedings on the mesa all mounted their ponies and made haste to get away. The cook feared his companions had been made prisoners—perhaps murdered.

A PARTY TO THE RESCUE.

The party remained in the neighborhood several days visiting the other Moqui villages, to all of which they were welcomed, and many times they were visited surreptitiously at night by people from Oreibe, who brought curios for sale, which they dared not offer openly. In this way a fair collection was made. Meanwhile the story of the episode in Oreibe was carried to Keam's canyon, twenty-five miles distant, the proprietor of which, an English ranchman, has lived in the vicinity many years, and by fair dealing, pluck, and firmness has gained an extraordinary influence with both Navajoes and Moquis. Mr. Keam at once organized a party of three or four white men, the only ones living within sixty miles, and a dozen or twenty Navajoes for a rescue.

The Oreibes received information of his approach, and the head men of the tribe incontinently fled. Keam sent his Navajoes after them, and the two, including the hunchbacked chief, were brought in. Keam tied their elbows and took them to the ranch for discipline, the Stevensons accompanying him. The prisoners were defiant at first, but after two or three days' confinement under the guardianship of Navajo jailers, who beat drums, danced, and indulged in other terrifying performances, they began to relent and confessed that they had acted badly.

"Now you are beginning to talk reason," said Keam, "and we will see about letting you go soon."

"But," snarled the hunchback, "we must go now."

"Hold on, my friend, you are too fast. You will not be so abrupt, perhaps, to-morrow."

After another night's confinement the prisoners begged their liberty, and were joined in their prayers by a deputation from the village. They promised good behavior in the future and extended an apparently cordial invitation to the Stevensons to return. "Now," said Keam, "you are talking like men. We will keep you another night."

The next day they were set at liberty and went away crestfallen and repentant.—Washington Cor. Chicago Herald.

MAY ESTABLISH WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Eustis' Amendment to the Washington Territory Bill Voted Down—Congress Condensed.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 10.—The new senator from California, Hon. George Hearst, took the oath in the senate Friday. After some unimportant business had been transacted, Frye got the floor and made a speech on the fisheries question, holding that the proper policy of the United States was to demand of Canada the same privileges for United States shipping as the Canadians have in the United States waters, and if that was refused, close the ports of the United States against the Canadians. Upon the close of Frye's speech the Washington territory bill came up, the pending question being the Eustis amendment providing that the state shall not permit woman suffrage. The amendment was advocated by Beck and Morgan and opposed by Teller, but on reaching a vote was rejected—yeas, 12; nays, 25—and the senate adjourned.

In the house a night session was ordered for May 13th to consider mortuary resolutions in memory of the late Congressman Hahn of Louisiana. Unanimous consent was refused to the consideration of the resolution appropriating money for the flood sufferers of Alabama, Beach of New York objecting. The house went into committee of the whole on the private calendar, and rose after the passage of several bills, when O'Neill of Missouri asked unanimous consent for the consideration of resolutions of sympathy with Gladstone in his efforts to secure a free parliament for Ireland, and congratulating the Irish people on their prospect for success in their struggle for self-government; also, that the speaker send a copy of the resolution to Gladstone. Cox of North Carolina objected. A recess was taken before evening session, at which time twenty-five pension bills were passed.

Sympathy for Gladstone.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 10.—In the house Friday O'Neill of Missouri asked unanimous consent for the present consideration of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the house of Representatives of the United States earnestly sympathizes with the Right Hon. William E. Gladstone and his associates in their efforts to secure a free parliament for the people of Ireland, and congratulates the people of that hitherto unhappy country on the prospect of an early and successful termination of their long and patriotic struggle for the right of loyal self government.

Resolved, That the speaker of the house be directed to communicate a copy of these resolutions to Mr. Gladstone.

Cox of North Carolina, objected and the resolutions were not received.

Collector Hager Heard From.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 10.—The following telegram has been received from the collector of the port of San Francisco:

"Department letter of 23d ult. was promptly communicated to the surveyor with instructions to accord all facilities to Chinese embassy. No discourtesy has been shown them. On the contrary, unusual indulgence was extended. They were speedily landed without identification or evidence of their official character, and without credentials, as required by section 13 of the restriction act. The chinese consul at this port neither gave to this office notice of their arrival nor made application for facilities. Complaints that proper courtesy was withheld have not come to my knowledge.

(Signed), COLLECTOR HAGER.

The Last of the Jeffersonville Case.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 10.—Mr. E. N. Hill, attorney, of this city, testified Friday before the house committee on reform in the civil service in reference to his services in procuring the appropriation for the levee at Jeffersonville, Ind. He stated that he only gave advice in the matter to M. Wardo and rendered legal service in the ordinary capacity of attorney. He did not appear before either of the congressional committees that considered the river and harbor bill. He did not think $1,250 for the counsel he gave excessive. This closed the testimony in the case, and the committee adjourned subject to the call of the chairman. The case will be submitted without argument.

National Inspection of Live Stock.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 10.—A favorable report will be made by the House committee on the Dunham bill authorizing the president to appoint inspectors of live stock, dressed meat and hog products intended for foreign shipment, to a number not exceeding fifteen for any one customs district. The bill imposes upon inspectors the duty of inspecting live stock, hog products, or dressed meats, and requires them to furnish written certificates of the results of inspections. The bill further provides that it shall be unlawful to import into the United States any adulterated or unwholesome food, or liquor adulterated with any ingredient injurious to health.

Secretary Manning.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 10.—Secretary Manning improves daily, and his physicians report continual progress. He is anxious to get out of bed and they have promised him that he shall do so.

Iowa Legislature.

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 10.—The senate Friday passed a resolution congratulating Irishmen on the introduction of Gladstone's home rule bill. The agricultural college bill was discussed without action. The house passed the senate drainage bill and capitol custodian bill. The resolution of impeachment against Auditor Brown were adopted, and the necessary action taken to proceed in the matter. The resolution that the house do impeach received 72 votes. The committee to present the case to senate was named and consists of Redmond, Walker and Keatley. Both house and senate passed the congressional apportionment bill. It gives the Republicans eight sure districts.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Relief Plan.

PHILADELPHIA, April 10.—The changes in the plan for the relief department of the Pennsylvania Railroad company have been agreed upon by the directors, but it will take a day or two to get the matter in shape for the printers. The changes have been numerous and radical, and it is thought will fully meet any objections that the employes have offered, the most important of them being the adoption of voluntary in stead of compulsory membership.

Two Men Buried Alive.

NEW YORK, April 10.—A fatal accident occurred in Williamsburg Friday morning while a gang of workmen were employed in excavating for a cellar in Eppigs brewery extension, a large quantity of earth and sand suddenly fell upon them, catching two of the laborers and burying them alive. It was fully an hour before their dead bodies were discovered.

The Portico Remains.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 10.—In the suit of Henry Jones against Robert Garrett, requiring the latter to remove an objectionable portico from his palatial residence on Mount Vernon place, the court of appeals Friday, decided in favor of the defendant, and the portico remains.

Excitement in Texas.

Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Tex., by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; every body said he was dying of consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent him. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of pills and two bottles of the discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh thirty-six pounds.

I think Ely's Cream Balm is the best remedy for catarrh I ever saw. I never took anything that relieved me so quickly, and I have not felt so well for a long time. I used to be troubled with severe headaches two or three times a week, but since using the Balm have only had one and that was very light compared with other former ones.—J. A. Alcorn, Ag't U. P. R. R. Co., Eaton, Colo.

I find Ely's Cream Balm good for Catarrh of long standing.—M. N. Lasley, 1934 West Chestnut St., Louisville, Ky.

Gobbled Another Railway Shark.

NEW YORK, April 10.—President Richmond of the Broadway surface road, was arrested Friday on a bench warrant issued by Recorder Smyth. He was immediately taken before the district attorney. His arrest is said to be based upon statements made in Alderman Waite's confession. His arrest and that of ex-Alderman Miller in Florida gives color to reports that were freely circulated to the effect that new and startling developments on the alleged bribery would soon be made.

President Richmond was arraigned and held in $25,000 bail, to answer.

Will Not Come Here to Fight.

LONDON, April 10.—Jem Smith, the champion English pugelist, was interviewed by a cable news representative Friday morning concerning the progress of his negotiations with John L. Sullivan, and the prospects of his arranging a fight with the American champion. Smith said: "I am anxious to fight Sullivan, or a better man if America has a better one. I have agreed to fight in Ireland, and as both Sullivan and I are Irish, I think the conditions would be better for fair play there than elsewhere. I like America and Americans, but I positively will not go to America to fight."

Collapse of a Conference.

WHEELING, W. Va., April 10.—Greatly to the disappointment of all concerned, the conference between committees of the Western Nail association and the United Nail Rollers, which has been in session at Benwood since Thursday morning, adjourned at noon Friday without reaching any decision. It is stated that the association refused to recognize any of the numerous concessions made on the previous demand, which was for a 15-cent card rate and the retention of the present feeder nailors.

Preparing for War.

LONDON, April 10.—It is stated that an organization of Loyalists in Londonderry, has applied to a large English firm for estimates of the cost of a supply of Martini-Henry rifles, promising large orders.

A Novel Feature in Investments

The whole country, after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and uninjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation that can make a better showing now than before the crisis, attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors, and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost amongst the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000, First Mortgage six per cent 10-year bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the farmer as well as the banker, the clerk and mechanic as well as the millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

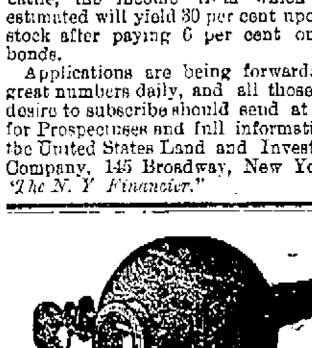

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in one and five dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 gold bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the company's office, at 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the bond being payable to the company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the company give as a bonus, free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1,000 bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock free. The bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and the money received from sale of bonds will be invested in cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

The pall bearers were Thomas Doheny, Thomas Burns, Michael Meenahan, Cornelius Murphy, Michael Barron and Thomas Birmingham.

—Mr. L. M. Nelson, the janitor at the court house, has just completed a thorough cleaning of the entire building having calcimined many of the rooms, washed all the walls, and wood work, including the windows, re-painted the floors, and in many other ways, greatly improved the appearance of the whole interior. Mr Nelson takes great pride in keeping the building in order, and is not ashamed to have people call and look the building over.

—The members of W. H. Sargent Post No. 20, G. A. R., at their regular meeting last evening, resolved to engage General B. M. Prentiss, of Illinois, to deliver his great lecture on the "Battle of Shiloh", during the latter part of this month, perhaps the 28th. General Prentiss was in the thickest of this great battle, in fact he and his brave division were on the extreme right of the line, and received the first attack of the rebel forces. The General is an eloquent and entertaining lecturer and will draw a crowded house.

—There was a test yesterday afternoon of the automatic car coupler, invented by C. W. Furguson of this city. There were a number of railroad men present and the trials were watched with much interest. The coupler is a success in all but one thing. Unless the link is guided by hand in the old fashioned way which has proven so deadly, it misses on an average of thirty-three out of one hundred times. This is a serious objection but if it can be overcome there is no reason why the invention should not be of much value, as the mechanism is simple and not liable to get out of order.

—The Milwaukee team was too much for the Riversides last night and the score stood 3 to 0. The Janesville men appeared to be overmatched from the start, but they held out for eight minutes and a half before the ball was sent into the net. The second goal was made in two minutes and forty-five seconds on a pass from McGaw to Fahnestock. The third was the longest of all and lasted over nineteen minutes being finally made by McGaw. There was an animated discussion over a foul claimed by the Milwaukees on Ridgely but the claim was not allowed. The home team played Somers and Steiner in goal with Daily at half back, while Riversides played Campbell as their rusher, Ebiert not coming.

—The rainbow socials given last evening by the young ladies of Court Street M. E. church was very well attended. The social was held in the Sunday school room which was handsomely decorated in bright colors. The feature of the evening was the auction, when each one of the sterner sex by securing a neck-tie obtained the privilege of acting as escort for the young lady whose apron corresponded with his purchase. There was a mournful ends of the affair, however, for each of the lucky ones was obliged to finish hemming an apron. The expression of sadness that would steal over the face of these amateurs as the needle explored their thumbs was something remarkable, and it is rumored that one victim became so wrought up that he forgot himself and ejaculated: "By hang" just as the leader of his bible class came by.

Minnesota Excursion.

Remember the excursion which leaves for Southern Minnesota Monday, April 12th, $10.00 buys a round trip ticket and furnishes an opportunity to see the country and buy a farm at rates never before offered on western land. THE BUSINESS MEN.

They Meet and Consider the Report of the Railway Committee.

And Will Take Active Steps to Secure the Building of the Evansville "Cut Off."

A special meeting of the Business Men's Association was held last evening, for the purpose of hearing the special report of the Transportation committee relating to the building of the Evansville "cut off."

Vice President B. J. Daly presided, and G. M. Hanchett was elected secretary pro tem. The attendance of members was good.

Messrs. William Ruger, John J. R. Pease, Lovi B. Carle, and B. B. Eldredge, of the committee who visited the managers of the Northwestern Railway Company in Chicago on Wednesday, were present, and explained the result of their interview with the railway managers, substantially as reported in the Gazette of Thursday evening.

Mr. William Ruger expressed the opinion that without our people were prompt about giving the company proper encouragement the road would never be constructed. In fact Mr. Keep so stated to the representatives. The distance between this city and Evansville is some fifteen miles, and the width of the right of way necessary for the building of a road is four rods.

Mr. A. E. Burpee presented the following resolution which was adopted:

Resolved, That the committee on transportation of this association be instructed to co-operate with any committee which may be appointed by the common council, and with citizens, and to take the necessary steps to ascertain the cost of right of way from this city to Evansville for the contemplated railway, and that such committee be instructed to request the common council to appropriate sufficient money to defray the necessary expense of ascertaining the cost of such right of way.

The meeting then adjourned to Friday evening of next week, April 16th, at half past seven o'clock.

It now rests with the people of Janesville whether this city will continue to remain on a side track of the great Northwestern system, and the question is one which should demand the careful consideration of every tax-payer in the city. The Gazette has already pointed out many of the advantages to be gained by the building of this road, and we sincerely hope the people of the Bower City will decide to "boom" the project until it is secured. The matter of bringing the question before the people for definite and intelligent action is in the hands of competent committees, and they will certainly lose no time in developing the same. While there is nothing for the city to lose, there is much to be gained by prompt action.

While this preliminary work is being done, and until it is accomplished and the committee prepared to say to the city just the amount of money necessary to secure the right of way, let us as citizens bear in mind the fact that the C. & N. W. railway is not obliged to have the road and that the opportunity now presented, if allowed to pass unimproved, will doubtless close the issue for all time.

The Madison Journal, of last evening, publishes an account of the interview of the Janesville delegation with the managers of the Chicago and Northwestern railway, relating to the Evansville "cut off," and says: "This improvement has been talked about for many years past, but neither the company nor the authorities of Janesville appear thus far to have regarded it as of sufficient consequence to take any practical steps for its accomplishment, further than mere talk, except that at one time, we believe, the latter party went to the expense of a preliminary survey, in order to demonstrate to the company the advantages which would accrue to its stockholders and the facilities which would inure to the traveling public by thus straightening the line. But each party by turns has thus far waited for the other to push the enterprise, and the result has been non-action. Now that they appear to have reached a common ground of agreement, there is nothing in the way of having the work done within the next three months, except an official ratification by the authorities of Janesville of the terms offered by the company, and the issuance of city bonds of sufficient amount to secure and pay for the right of way. This will doubtless have to be submitted to a popular vote, and the question for each tax-payer to decide for himself will be whether the little increase in his assessments will not be more than repaid by the general increase in the value of his property which will be the direct consequence of this desirable improvement. It does not appear to a practical observer that it need to take long to decide in favor of an immediate prosecution of the work."

Personal.

—Col. G. W. Bird, of Jefferson, was in the city to day.

—Mr. Harry Elliot, of Milwaukee, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wadsworth, of this city.

—Edward E. Rockrill, the energetic advance agent of Litt's Traveling museum, was a visitor at the Gazette office this morning.

—J. D. King, U. S. postoffice inspector, arrived in the city this morning from Denver, Colorado, and will remain a few days visiting his family and friends.

—Mr. John Menzies, clerk of the municipal court, returned home last evening from Chicago, where he has been for several days, with his brother, Dr. Hugh Menzies, who is seriously ill with a lung difficulty, but is now slowly improving.

—Hon. Hiram Merrill and wife, Capt. W. T. Vankirk and F. C. Cook have purchased tickets for a trip to California via the St. Paul line, and will start some time next week. Their tickets are good for ninety days, indicating that they will be absent nearly that time.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

Special Meeting of the Common Council.

The Official Canvas of the Vote of the Municipal Election.

Other Business Considered.

A special meeting of the common council was held last evening, His Honor, Mayor Winans, presiding, all the aldermen being in their seats except Aldermen Daly and Rooney.

The journal of the last meeting was read and approved.

The report and statement of the judge of the municipal court for the month of March, was presented, referred to the judiciary committee, found correct and placed on file.

The March report of the board of education for March, showing expenditures of $1,626.25, was read, referred to the committee on schools, and after examination by the committee and a correction made in footings, the same was, on motion of Ald. Shearer, approved and ordered published and filed.

The official bonds of Chas. Horn and Henry Blunk, as first and second assistant engineers of the fire department were presented, found correct and approved.

The annual report of the chief engineer of the fire department, from March 20th, 1885, to March 20th, 1886, was presented and referred to the committee on fire department.

A number of miscellaneous bills were read by the clerk and referred to appropriate committees.

The returns of the municipal election were presented by the clerk and referred to the judiciary committee for examination.

On motion Ald. Croft was appointed to assist the judiciary committee in the examination of election returns.

Dr. C. L. Martin made a statement concerning the attorney fees in the old case of Wilcox against Hemming, growing out of the impounding of the former's horses. The matter was referred to the judiciary committee.

Ald. Croft, of the finance committee, reported in favor of allowing bills against the various funds as follows:

General fund	$85 15
First ward fund	8 18
Second ward fund	75
Third ward fund	3 33
Fourth ward fund	7 81
Fifth ward fund	3 38
Fire department fund	1040
Bridge fund	3 27
Total	$71 15

The report was concurred in.

Ald. Croft, of the same committee, reported the March report of the city treasurer as correct. Filed.

Ald. Croft introduced an order providing for the payment of the inspectors and clerks of election, three dollars each, and for three polling places at three dollars each. Adopted.

Also, an order providing for the payment of $216.66, salary due Municipal Judge L. F. Patten, to March 27th, 1886. Adopted.

Also, that an order be drawn in favor of J. A. Blount for $3.60, payable from the general fund, for express charges paid on the fire department supplies. Adopted.

Ald. Judd, from the park committee, introduced an order providing for the building of a concrete walk from the southeast corner of the park to the court house. Adopted.

Ald. Fathers moved that Mr. Phelps be appointed to overhaul the clothing at the pest house under the supervision of the health officer. Adopted.

Ald. Burnham brought up the matter of the ordinance relating to obstructing the river, mill or tail race, which had had its first and second reading. The city attorney decided that it would not be valid in the case of the race, which was private property.

On motion of Ald. Shearer Mr. James Mole, of the first ward, was granted permission to run a drain from his cellar under the Madison road, provided he did not obstruct the highway.

On Motion of Ald. Lennartz a recess was taken to allow the judiciary committee time to canvass the election returns.

The canvass being completed, Ald. Croft made the report of the committee which was the same, in substance, as published in the Gazette of Wednesday evening. The report was adopted, and the gentlemen receiving the majorities were declared duly elected.

Ald. Fathers stated that Messrs. Chas. F. Glass, Walter Helms and Tracy Brown desired to erect a private telephone wire from their places of business to their residences on Main street, and asked that permission be granted them to erect poles on Main and Park streets, and that the line be constructed under the supervision of the aldermen of the ward.

Ald. Croft moved that it be referred to a committee, to report at the next meeting. Adopted.

Mayor Winans appointed as such committee Alds. Fathers, Rooney, Croft and McLean, to report at the next meeting of the council.

Ald. Burnham moved that the nomination of John C. Spencer, as chief engineer of the fire department, be confirmed by the council. Adopted.

Ayes—Burnham, Fathers, Judd, Lennartz, McLean and Shearer—6.

Noes—Alds. Croft and George—2.

On motion of Ald. McLean the council adjourned.

AMBITION DISCOURAGED.

A Chicago Youth Who Wanted to Travel with a Circus.

Last night Marshal Hogan received the following dispatch:

CHICAGO, April 9.—Arrest a runaway boy, John Killen, fifteen years of age. Has light complexion and hair, wears a dark suit and has on a brown wool cap with a tassel. He left this evening for your city. Hold him and wire me.

CHIEF OF POLICE EBERSOLD.

The marshal soon traced the runaway up and found him fast asleep at the Commercial hotel. He left him undisturbed and returned this morning to take him in charge. The young man was very indignant when informed of the state of things, and told the marshal that it was a case of mistaken identity. Marshal Hogan failed to see it in that light, however, and finally the boy confessed that his name was Killen, and that he was the one wanted. Yellow covered literature had put into his head the idea that no life was quite so enjoyable as that of the circus man, and he had determined to follow it. His parents naturally objected and refused to hear of such a thing so he secretly made preparation and before they know what was going on he was half way to this city. Here he expected to join the Burr Robbins show and begin a life of glory. The telegram from Chief Ebersold interferred with his plans seriously, however, and this afternoon his father came to take his son home. The boy is very bright and intelligent looking and it seems strange that he should be possessed by such ideas.

The Girls' Social Club.

The Girls' Social club has had a remarkable growth since its organization. It now has a membership of fifty, and the ladies in charge think that when this reaches one hundred, the fees will be fully sufficient to pay the running expenses. This society has done more for its members than is usually imagined. Vocal and instrumental music is taught, and many of the girls who came there in the fall unable to form a letter, now write a very creditable hand. All the leading magazines and periodicals are kept on file, and read with great interest; and the neatly kept room has proven very attractive during the long winter nights. In fact the club has been a grand success, and Mrs. Furslow deserves much praise for her unselfish efforts in making it such. The ladies have been to considerable trouble in raising money for the carrying on of the enterprise, and it would be a very commendable thing for the people of the first ward if they would raise a subscription to pay the debts that still remain.

Careful in Our Thing, Careful in All.

"The quickest way to tell who are the good railroad men," said a prominent railroad official, "is on pay day. The man who draws his full month's earnings at one time can almost invariably be put down as a trustworthy, temperate, industrious, and valuable man. One of our men issued orders last month against his pay for a larger amount than was due him. His place will probably have to be filled soon. Every time an order is filed against a man's pay it injures him in the eyes of his employers. Of course there are times when sickness makes it necessary, but such cases are usually distinguished by a previous good record."—Elmira Advertiser.

"She was a lovely woman."
